

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

The National Era is published every Thursday during the following terms:

Single copy, one year	$2.00
Three copies, one year	5.00
Five copies, one year	8.00
Ten copies, one year	15.00
Single copy, six months	1.00
Two copies, six months	2.00

Voluntary agents are entitled to retain 50 cents commission on each yearly, and 25 cents commission on each semi-yearly, subscriber, except in the case of Club members.

A Club of five subscribers, at $2, will entitle the club manager to a copy for 6 months; a Club of ten, at $3, to a copy for one year. When a Club has been forwarded, additions may be made to it, on the same terms.

WASHINGTON, D. C.

[Extract according to act of Congress, in the year 1850, by the Postmaster General, in the Clerk's Office of the Circuit Court of the District of Columbia.]

FOR THE NATIONAL ERA.

ROSA AND HER SUITORS.

A TALE OF SWEDISH DOMESTIC LIFE.

BY EMILIE F. CARLEEN.
Author of "One Year of Waiting," "The Bride of Omborg," &c., &c.

TRANSLATED BY ELBERT PERCE.

CHAP. XIII.

The Visit and Its Results.

In the large and gorgeous blue room, which was only opened on especial occasions, were seated Madame Widen and her daughter, each busy with her embroidery—the former in a comfortable corner of the sofa, the latter at the window. The Merchant himself was standing by a table, amusing himself with apparent unconcern, in plucking a parrot which was picking, through the gilded bars of his cage, at a piece of sugar in his master's hand. This had not lasted very long, when the folding doors were thrown open by Larson, and, as he announced Mr. Garben, the expected and much-dreaded visitor entered the room.

He was a pale and somewhat spare man, of more than the usual height. His features, which were passably handsome, were slightly shaded by a small quantity of thin light-colored hair, and his eyes, though dark, had a mingled expression of earnestness and benevolence; but there was a trace of energy and decision about his lips, which remained even when he was smiling. He, however, appeared by no means a mere stiff, tedious man of business, but a polished member of society; his dress was modern, and of rich material; he made his bow to the ladies with practiced ease, and gave his hand to Mr. Widen, who advanced to meet him, and bade him welcome with every expression of cordial friendship.

"You see here my wife and daughter, who have long been desirous of making Mr. Brigitte's acquaintance. And here, my dear Brigitte Marie, and you, my child, see the man of whom I have so often spoken to you with much esteem and honor; we will hope that you will add us honor to make one of our circle."

At this very unusual introduction of her husband, Madame Widen bowed repeatedly, and bent double in a graceful inclination of her pretty head, while she nearly let all her work tumble down upon the floor, from surprise at her father's speech; for, as far as she could recollect, she had never heard the name of the highly respected gentleman in question mentioned in her circle, especially in connection with an invoice of salt or grain.

As soon as Mr. Garben was seated, Madame Widen commenced with all manner of inquiries regarding the difficulties of the journey, the badness of the roads, &c.; but her guest did not appear inclined to enlarge upon the subject, so that it was left to give it better to the conversation some other turn.

"For how long may we hope to have the pleasure of seeing Mr. Garben among us?"

The Danish merchant looked at his host, and replied—

"I am sorry to say, Mr. Widen, that we might possibly take our business in hand to-day, and to-morrow, should we have concluded it, I would postpone my return to Stockholm."

Mr. Widen darted a look at his wife, which quickly made her aware that she had made a bad beginning; and when the mystery of her husband's arrival was explained to him, she said, "Oh, how humiliating that I should be directed to endeavor to earn any man's heart—to—oh, how abominable!" How would not Mannerstedt scorn me, could I not make it possible that I could lead him to such neediness as to force him to obey? I will be poor and friendly, as far as possible."

"What did his note say?" she said. "Let me read it once more."

And taking the Captain's note, which was an answer to her own, she read as follows: "Dear Father, I am very sorry to say, I signed your note, as she recited the note, and put it away. "Life from my life! Poor Ferdinand, 'will be but a poor existence, truly. God knows what I may have to announce, but I hardly venture to hope for much. Oh, could not get back to Stockholm before the 1st of January? If any one in the world is capable of doing it, you are the person, and you alone. I shall pass these three days of absence in killing anxiety. On Wednesday evening, I hope to be back, and receive life or death from your lips."

"With or without calculation," replied her father, "it is the same thing, so you do it. And now we will go home again."

"How did his note say?" he asked.

"Let me read it once more."

And taking the Captain's note, which was an answer to her own, she read as follows: "Dear Father, I am very sorry to say, I signed your note, as she recited the note, and put it away. "Life from my life! Poor Ferdinand, 'will be but a poor existence, truly. God knows what I may have to announce, but I hardly venture to hope for much. Oh, could not get back to Stockholm before the 1st of January? If any one in the world is capable of doing it, you are the person, and you alone. I shall pass these three days of absence in killing anxiety. On Wednesday evening, I hope to be back, and receive life or death from your lips."

"With or without calculation," replied her father, "it is the same thing, so you do it. And now we will go home again."

"How did his note say?" he asked.

"Let me read it once more."

And taking the Captain's note, which was an answer to her own, she read as follows: "Dear Father, I am very sorry to say, I signed your note, as she recited the note, and put it away. "Life from my life! Poor Ferdinand, 'will be but a poor existence, truly. God knows what I may have to announce, but I hardly venture to hope for much. Oh, could not get back to Stockholm before the 1st of January? If any one in the world is capable of doing it, you are the person, and you alone. I shall pass these three days of absence in killing anxiety. On Wednesday evening, I hope to be back, and receive life or death from your lips."

"With or without calculation," replied her father, "it is the same thing, so you do it. And now we will go home again."

"How did his note say?" he asked.

"Let me read it once more."

And taking the Captain's note, which was an answer to her own, she read as follows: "Dear Father, I am very sorry to say, I signed your note, as she recited the note, and put it away. "Life from my life! Poor Ferdinand, 'will be but a poor existence, truly. God knows what I may have to announce, but I hardly venture to hope for much. Oh, could not get back to Stockholm before the 1st of January? If any one in the world is capable of doing it, you are the person, and you alone. I shall pass these three days of absence in killing anxiety. On Wednesday evening, I hope to be back, and receive life or death from your lips."

"With or without calculation," replied her father, "it is the same thing, so you do it. And now we will go home again."

"How did his note say?" he asked.

"Let me read it once more."

And taking the Captain's note, which was an answer to her own, she read as follows: "Dear Father, I am very sorry to say, I signed your note, as she recited the note, and put it away. "Life from my life! Poor Ferdinand, 'will be but a poor existence, truly. God knows what I may have to announce, but I hardly venture to hope for much. Oh, could not get back to Stockholm before the 1st of January? If any one in the world is capable of doing it, you are the person, and you alone. I shall pass these three days of absence in killing anxiety. On Wednesday evening, I hope to be back, and receive life or death from your lips."

"With or without calculation," replied her father, "it is the same thing, so you do it. And now we will go home again."

"How did his note say?" he asked.

"Let me read it once more."

And taking the Captain's note, which was an answer to her own, she read as follows: "Dear Father, I am very sorry to say, I signed your note, as she recited the note, and put it away. "Life from my life! Poor Ferdinand, 'will be but a poor existence, truly. God knows what I may have to announce, but I hardly venture to hope for much. Oh, could not get back to Stockholm before the 1st of January? If any one in the world is capable of doing it, you are the person, and you alone. I shall pass these three days of absence in killing anxiety. On Wednesday evening, I hope to be back, and receive life or death from your lips."

"With or without calculation," replied her father, "it is the same thing, so you do it. And now we will go home again."

"How did his note say?" he asked.

"Let me read it once more."

And taking the Captain's note, which was an answer to her own, she read as follows: "Dear Father, I am very sorry to say, I signed your note, as she recited the note, and put it away. "Life from my life! Poor Ferdinand, 'will be but a poor existence, truly. God knows what I may have to announce, but I hardly venture to hope for much. Oh, could not get back to Stockholm before the 1st of January? If any one in the world is capable of doing it, you are the person, and you alone. I shall pass these three days of absence in killing anxiety. On Wednesday evening, I hope to be back, and receive life or death from your lips."

"With or without calculation," replied her father, "it is the same thing, so you do it. And now we will go home again."

"How did his note say?" he asked.

"Let me read it once more."

And taking the Captain's note, which was an answer to her own, she read as follows: "Dear Father, I am very sorry to say, I signed your note, as she recited the note, and put it away. "Life from my life! Poor Ferdinand, 'will be but a poor existence, truly. God knows what I may have to announce, but I hardly venture to hope for much. Oh, could not get back to Stockholm before the 1st of January? If any one in the world is capable of doing it, you are the person, and you alone. I shall pass these three days of absence in killing anxiety. On Wednesday evening, I hope to be back, and receive life or death from your lips."

"With or without calculation," replied her father, "it is the same thing, so you do it. And now we will go home again."

"How did his note say?" he asked.

"Let me read it once more."

And taking the Captain's note, which was an answer to her own, she read as follows: "Dear Father, I am very sorry to say, I signed your note, as she recited the note, and put it away. "Life from my life! Poor Ferdinand, 'will be but a poor existence, truly. God knows what I may have to announce, but I hardly venture to hope for much. Oh, could not get back to Stockholm before the 1st of January? If any one in the world is capable of doing it, you are the person, and you alone. I shall pass these three days of absence in killing anxiety. On Wednesday evening, I hope to be back, and receive life or death from your lips."

"With or without calculation," replied her father, "it is the same thing, so you do it. And now we will go home again."

"How did his note say?" he asked.

"Let me read it once more."

And taking the Captain's note, which was an answer to her own, she read as follows: "Dear Father, I am very sorry to say, I signed your note, as she recited the note, and put it away. "Life from my life! Poor Ferdinand, 'will be but a poor existence, truly. God knows what I may have to announce, but I hardly venture to hope for much. Oh, could not get back to Stockholm before the 1st of January? If any one in the world is capable of doing it, you are the person, and you alone. I shall pass these three days of absence in killing anxiety. On Wednesday evening, I hope to be back, and receive life or death from your lips."

"With or without calculation," replied her father, "it is the same thing, so you do it. And now we will go home again."

"How did his note say?" he asked.

"Let me read it once more."

And taking the Captain's note, which was an answer to her own, she read as follows: "Dear Father, I am very sorry to say, I signed your note, as she recited the note, and put it away. "Life from my life! Poor Ferdinand, 'will be but a poor existence, truly. God knows what I may have to announce, but I hardly venture to hope for much. Oh, could not get back to Stockholm before the 1st of January? If any one in the world is capable of doing it, you are the person, and you alone. I shall pass these three days of absence in killing anxiety. On Wednesday evening, I hope to be back, and receive life or death from your lips."

"With or without calculation," replied her father, "it is the same thing, so you do it. And now we will go home again."

"How did his note say?" he asked.

"Let me read it once more."

And taking the Captain's note, which was an answer to her own, she read as follows: "Dear Father, I am very sorry to say, I signed your note, as she recited the note, and put it away. "Life from my life! Poor Ferdinand, 'will be but a poor existence, truly. God knows what I may have to announce, but I hardly venture to hope for much. Oh, could not get back to Stockholm before the 1st of January? If any one in the world is capable of doing it, you are the person, and you alone. I shall pass these three days of absence in killing anxiety. On Wednesday evening, I hope to be back, and receive life or death from your lips."

"With or without calculation," replied her father, "it is the same thing, so you do it. And now we will go home again."

"How did his note say?" he asked.

"Let me read it once more."

And taking the Captain's note, which was an answer to her own, she read as follows: "Dear Father, I am very sorry to say, I signed your note, as she recited the note, and put it away. "Life from my life! Poor Ferdinand, 'will be but a poor existence, truly. God knows what I may have to announce, but I hardly venture to hope for much. Oh, could not get back to Stockholm before the 1st of January? If any one in the world is capable of doing it, you are the person, and you alone. I shall pass these three days of absence in killing anxiety. On Wednesday evening, I hope to be back, and receive life or death from your lips."

"With or without calculation," replied her father, "it is the same thing, so you do it. And now we will go home again."

"How did his note say?" he asked.

"Let me read it once more."

And taking the Captain's note, which was an answer to her own, she read as follows: "Dear Father, I am very sorry to say, I signed your note, as she recited the note, and put it away. "Life from my life! Poor Ferdinand, 'will be but a poor existence, truly. God knows what I may have to announce, but I hardly venture to hope for much. Oh, could not get back to Stockholm before the 1st of January? If any one in the world is capable of doing it, you are the person, and you alone. I shall pass these three days of absence in killing anxiety. On Wednesday evening, I hope to be back, and receive life or death from your lips."

"With or without calculation," replied her father, "it is the same thing, so you do it. And now we will go home again."

"How did his note say?" he asked.

"Let me read it once more."

And taking the Captain's note, which was an answer to her own, she read as follows: "Dear Father, I am very sorry to say, I signed your note, as she recited the note, and put it away. "Life from my life! Poor Ferdinand, 'will be but a poor existence, truly. God knows what I may have to announce, but I hardly venture to hope for much. Oh, could not get back to Stockholm before the 1st of January? If any one in the world is capable of doing it, you are the person, and you alone. I shall pass these three days of absence in killing anxiety. On Wednesday evening, I hope to be back, and receive life or death from your lips."

"With or without calculation," replied her father, "it is the same thing, so you do it. And now we will go home again."

"How did his note say?" he asked.

"Let me read it once more."

And taking the Captain's note, which was an answer to her own, she read as follows: "Dear Father, I am very sorry to say, I signed your note, as she recited the note, and put it away. "Life from my life! Poor Ferdinand, 'will be but a poor existence, truly. God knows what I may have to announce, but I hardly venture to hope for much. Oh, could not get back to Stockholm before the 1st of January? If any one in the world is capable of doing it, you are the person, and you alone. I shall pass these three days of absence in killing anxiety. On Wednesday evening, I hope to be back, and receive life or death from your lips."

"With or without calculation," replied her father, "it is the same thing, so you do it. And now we will go home again."

"How did his note say?" he asked.

"Let me read it once more."

And taking the Captain's note, which was an answer to her own, she read as follows: "Dear Father, I am very sorry to say, I signed your note, as she recited the note, and put it away. "Life from my life! Poor Ferdinand, 'will be but a poor existence, truly. God knows what I may have to announce, but I hardly venture to hope for much. Oh, could not get back to Stockholm before the 1st of January? If any one in the world is capable of doing it, you are the person, and you alone. I shall pass these three days of absence in killing anxiety. On Wednesday evening, I hope to be back, and receive life or death from your lips."

"With or without calculation," replied her father, "it is the same thing, so you do it. And now we will go home again."

"How did his note say?" he asked.

"Let me read it once more."

And taking the Captain's note, which was an answer to her own, she read as follows: "Dear Father, I am very sorry to say, I signed your note, as she recited the note, and put it away. "Life from my life! Poor Ferdinand, 'will be but a poor existence, truly. God knows what I may have to announce, but I hardly venture to hope for much. Oh, could not get back to Stockholm before the 1st of January? If any one in the world is capable of doing it, you are the person, and you alone. I shall pass these three days of absence in killing anxiety. On Wednesday evening, I hope to be back, and receive life or death from your lips."

"With or without calculation," replied her father, "it is the same thing, so you do it. And now we will go home again."

"How did his note say?" he asked.

"Let me read it once more."

KANSAS.

Proceedings of the State Convention.
From the St. Louis Democrat.

Topeka, November 6.—The Convention went into Committee of the Whole on Report No. 17. As amended, the Secretaries of State, General Treasurer, General Land Commissioner, General State Geologist, State Prisoner, and Prison Inspectors, are to be elected for two years, by the people.

STATE SCHOOL.—A bill which was referred to the Committee on Education, on the subject of levying contributions on the subject of leaving evidence of debt against the State of Kansas, and to make the same bear interest, and also to report the items legitimately chargeable against the State of Kansas,¹ reported these resolutions:

Resolved, That the evidence of indebtedness ought, in the opinion of the committee, to bear interest at ten per centum per annum.

Resolved, That items of work done or money expended in the election of a Delegate to Congress are not legitimate charges against the State of Kansas.

Resolved, In view of the work which the clerks are required to perform, owing to the day and night sessions that are held by the Convention, we recommend that the principal clerks and reporters be allowed six dollars per diem for their services, and the other clerks five dollars per diem.

MARRIED WOMEN'S RIGHTS.

The selected committee to whom was referred a resolution offered by Mr. Goodin, reported the following:

Resolved, That the General Assembly shall have no power to pass any law whereby the separate estate of a married woman, either in property or personalty, may be taken, or any part thereof, subject to the disposal of the husband, or, in any manner, unless by written consent of the wife first obtained, duly acknowledged, and recorded, witnessed by at least two witnesses, to the effect that if Congress should by any means deprive the mother of an equality with the father in the maintenance, education, and care of their children; and in no case shall the mother be deprived of her children, except on account of insanity, intemperance, or other gross impropriety.

BOUNDARIES OF KANSAS.

Kansas, as bounded by its organic law, extends to the Rocky Mountains, some 700 miles from north to south. In the event of a separation of the Free State from the Union, it would be bounded on the west by a line drawn north and south, about 130 miles from the Missouri river. This would make a large and almost square State; the majority of the delegates seemed to favor the division; but, supposing that Congress would not consent to it, to bound the Territories, fixed the boundaries as indicated in the Kansas-Nebraska Act.

Topeka, November 8—11 P. M.—The evening session met at 6 o'clock. Mr. Schuyler entered, and a letter from the Governor was read to the Convention. The Convention, on taking up the business of the day, adjourned to the afternoon, and the evening session was entirely devoted to the discussion of the majority report, which was finally adopted in a vote by States of 93 to 11.

The report characterizes the Missouri Compromise as an infraction of plighted faith, and demands that it be abrogated, and that the Constitution be so far amended that no state that had failed in Congress, and voted in the 9th of October nullified the organic act. He added, that if Congress should by any means provide the mother of an equality with the father in the maintenance, education, and care of their children; and in no case shall the mother be deprived of her children, except on account of insanity, intemperance, or other gross impropriety.

THE CINCINNATI KNOW NOTHING CONVENTION.

This Convention, in obedience to a call signed by the Boston from the Philadelphia Convention, on the 26th of the twelfth section, assembled on Wednesday, 20th November. We give below the proceedings, as reported by the New York Herald:

When the Convention was called to order, there were about fifty persons in the room; for the most part delegates.

General Williamson, of Pennsylvania, was called to the chair.

The following was then put and carried:

Resolved, That the proceedings of this Convention shall be kept secret, until otherwise ordered.

Delegates and others then withdrew, and the Convention proceeded to perfect its organization.

BIRTH OF FUTURE PARTIES.

The Convention then went into Committee of the Whole on Mr. Delahay's "Nebraska Resolution," and the amendments offered to it.

The resolution, as reported from the select committee, was voted down, and the report of the Convention, on the contrary, gave notice, that if Mr. Delahay's Nebraska resolution passed, he would move a resolution of congratulation on Mr. Chase's action.

THE CINCINNATI KNOW NOTHING CONVENTION.

This Convention, in obedience to a call signed by the Boston from the Philadelphia Convention, on the 26th of the twelfth section, assembled on Wednesday, 20th November. We give below the proceedings, as reported by the New York Herald:

When the Convention was called to order, there were about fifty persons in the room; for the most part delegates.

General Williamson, of Pennsylvania, was called to the chair.

The following was then put and carried:

Resolved, That the proceedings of this Convention shall be kept secret, until otherwise ordered.

Delegates and others then withdrew, and the Convention proceeded to perfect its organization.

THE CINCINNATI KNOW NOTHING CONVENTION.

This Convention, in obedience to a call signed by the Boston from the Philadelphia Convention, on the 26th of the twelfth section, assembled on Wednesday, 20th November. We give below the proceedings, as reported by the New York Herald:

When the Convention was called to order, there were about fifty persons in the room; for the most part delegates.

General Williamson, of Pennsylvania, was called to the chair.

The following was then put and carried:

Resolved, That the proceedings of this Convention shall be kept secret, until otherwise ordered.

Delegates and others then withdrew, and the Convention proceeded to perfect its organization.

THE CINCINNATI KNOW NOTHING CONVENTION.

This Convention, in obedience to a call signed by the Boston from the Philadelphia Convention, on the 26th of the twelfth section, assembled on Wednesday, 20th November. We give below the proceedings, as reported by the New York Herald:

When the Convention was called to order, there were about fifty persons in the room; for the most part delegates.

General Williamson, of Pennsylvania, was called to the chair.

The following was then put and carried:

Resolved, That the proceedings of this Convention shall be kept secret, until otherwise ordered.

Delegates and others then withdrew, and the Convention proceeded to perfect its organization.

THE CINCINNATI KNOW NOTHING CONVENTION.

This Convention, in obedience to a call signed by the Boston from the Philadelphia Convention, on the 26th of the twelfth section, assembled on Wednesday, 20th November. We give below the proceedings, as reported by the New York Herald:

When the Convention was called to order, there were about fifty persons in the room; for the most part delegates.

General Williamson, of Pennsylvania, was called to the chair.

The following was then put and carried:

Resolved, That the proceedings of this Convention shall be kept secret, until otherwise ordered.

Delegates and others then withdrew, and the Convention proceeded to perfect its organization.

THE CINCINNATI KNOW NOTHING CONVENTION.

This Convention, in obedience to a call signed by the Boston from the Philadelphia Convention, on the 26th of the twelfth section, assembled on Wednesday, 20th November. We give below the proceedings, as reported by the New York Herald:

When the Convention was called to order, there were about fifty persons in the room; for the most part delegates.

General Williamson, of Pennsylvania, was called to the chair.

The following was then put and carried:

Resolved, That the proceedings of this Convention shall be kept secret, until otherwise ordered.

Delegates and others then withdrew, and the Convention proceeded to perfect its organization.

THE CINCINNATI KNOW NOTHING CONVENTION.

This Convention, in obedience to a call signed by the Boston from the Philadelphia Convention, on the 26th of the twelfth section, assembled on Wednesday, 20th November. We give below the proceedings, as reported by the New York Herald:

When the Convention was called to order, there were about fifty persons in the room; for the most part delegates.

General Williamson, of Pennsylvania, was called to the chair.

The following was then put and carried:

Resolved, That the proceedings of this Convention shall be kept secret, until otherwise ordered.

Delegates and others then withdrew, and the Convention proceeded to perfect its organization.

THE CINCINNATI KNOW NOTHING CONVENTION.

This Convention, in obedience to a call signed by the Boston from the Philadelphia Convention, on the 26th of the twelfth section, assembled on Wednesday, 20th November. We give below the proceedings, as reported by the New York Herald:

When the Convention was called to order, there were about fifty persons in the room; for the most part delegates.

General Williamson, of Pennsylvania, was called to the chair.

The following was then put and carried:

Resolved, That the proceedings of this Convention shall be kept secret, until otherwise ordered.

Delegates and others then withdrew, and the Convention proceeded to perfect its organization.

THE CINCINNATI KNOW NOTHING CONVENTION.

This Convention, in obedience to a call signed by the Boston from the Philadelphia Convention, on the 26th of the twelfth section, assembled on Wednesday, 20th November. We give below the proceedings, as reported by the New York Herald:

When the Convention was called to order, there were about fifty persons in the room; for the most part delegates.

General Williamson, of Pennsylvania, was called to the chair.

The following was then put and carried:

Resolved, That the proceedings of this Convention shall be kept secret, until otherwise ordered.

Delegates and others then withdrew, and the Convention proceeded to perfect its organization.

THE CINCINNATI KNOW NOTHING CONVENTION.

This Convention, in obedience to a call signed by the Boston from the Philadelphia Convention, on the 26th of the twelfth section, assembled on Wednesday, 20th November. We give below the proceedings, as reported by the New York Herald:

When the Convention was called to order, there were about fifty persons in the room; for the most part delegates.

General Williamson, of Pennsylvania, was called to the chair.

The following was then put and carried:

Resolved, That the proceedings of this Convention shall be kept secret, until otherwise ordered.

Delegates and others then withdrew, and the Convention proceeded to perfect its organization.

THE CINCINNATI KNOW NOTHING CONVENTION.

This Convention, in obedience to a call signed by the Boston from the Philadelphia Convention, on the 26th of the twelfth section, assembled on Wednesday, 20th November. We give below the proceedings, as reported by the New York Herald:

When the Convention was called to order, there were about fifty persons in the room; for the most part delegates.

General Williamson, of Pennsylvania, was called to the chair.

The following was then put and carried:

Resolved, That the proceedings of this Convention shall be kept secret, until otherwise ordered.

Delegates and others then withdrew, and the Convention proceeded to perfect its organization.

THE CINCINNATI KNOW NOTHING CONVENTION.

This Convention, in obedience to a call signed by the Boston from the Philadelphia Convention, on the 26th of the twelfth section, assembled on Wednesday, 20th November. We give below the proceedings, as reported by the New York Herald:

When the Convention was called to order, there were about fifty persons in the room; for the most part delegates.

General Williamson, of Pennsylvania, was called to the chair.

The following was then put and carried:

Resolved, That the proceedings of this Convention shall be kept secret, until otherwise ordered.

Delegates and others then withdrew, and the Convention proceeded to perfect its organization.

THE CINCINNATI KNOW NOTHING CONVENTION.

This Convention, in obedience to a call signed by the Boston from the Philadelphia Convention, on the 26th of the twelfth section, assembled on Wednesday, 20th November. We give below the proceedings, as reported by the New York Herald:

When the Convention was called to order, there were about fifty persons in the room; for the most part delegates.

General Williamson, of Pennsylvania, was called to the chair.

The following was then put and carried:

Resolved, That the proceedings of this Convention shall be kept secret, until otherwise ordered.

Delegates and others then withdrew, and the Convention proceeded to perfect its organization.

THE CINCINNATI KNOW NOTHING CONVENTION.

This Convention, in obedience to a call signed by the Boston from the Philadelphia Convention, on the 26th of the twelfth section, assembled on Wednesday, 20th November. We give below the proceedings, as reported by the New York Herald:

When the Convention was called to order, there were about fifty persons in the room; for the most part delegates.

General Williamson, of Pennsylvania, was called to the chair.

The following was then put and carried:

Resolved, That the proceedings of this Convention shall be kept secret, until otherwise ordered.

Delegates and others then withdrew, and the Convention proceeded to perfect its organization.

THE CINCINNATI KNOW NOTHING CONVENTION.

This Convention, in obedience to a call signed by the Boston from the Philadelphia Convention, on the 26th of the twelfth section, assembled on Wednesday, 20th November. We give below the proceedings, as reported by the New York Herald:

When the Convention was called to order, there were about fifty persons in the room; for the most part delegates.

General Williamson, of Pennsylvania, was called to the chair.

The following was then put and carried:

Resolved, That the proceedings of this Convention shall be kept secret, until otherwise ordered.

Delegates and others then withdrew, and the Convention proceeded to perfect its organization.

THE CINCINNATI KNOW NOTHING CONVENTION.

This Convention, in obedience to a call signed by the Boston from the Philadelphia Convention, on the 26th of the twelfth section, assembled on Wednesday, 20th November. We give below the proceedings, as reported by the New York Herald:

When the Convention was called to order, there were about fifty persons in the room; for the most part delegates.

General Williamson, of Pennsylvania, was called to the chair.

The following was then put and carried:

Resolved, That the proceedings of this Convention shall be kept secret, until otherwise ordered.

Delegates and others then withdrew, and the Convention proceeded to perfect its organization.

THE CINCINNATI KNOW NOTHING CONVENTION.

This Convention, in obedience to a call signed by the Boston from the Philadelphia Convention, on the 26th of the twelfth section, assembled on Wednesday, 20th November. We give below the proceedings, as reported by the New York Herald:

When the Convention was called to order, there were about fifty persons in the room; for the most part delegates.

General Williamson, of Pennsylvania, was called to the chair.

The following was then put and carried:

Resolved, That the proceedings of this Convention shall be kept secret, until otherwise ordered.</p

